Marine Corps Officials Investigate Charges Corporal Slugged Recruit

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Officials at this sprawling Marine Corps boot camp today investigated charges that a supply-room corporal slugged a young recruit just receiving his first field pack because he didn't "have sense enough to say 'sir'."

Pvt. Donald Hamisfar, 20, of Norwalk, Ohio, Friday night told United Press in an exclusive interview that the non-commissioned officer, who has not been identified, "hit me in the ribs, just above the stomach."

Navy doctors said they found a "bruised spot" on Hamisfar's abdomen when they operated on him Aug. 28 for groin hernia. The doctors said the hernia, which was congenital in origin, could have been aggravated by the blow.

The young recruit said that the incident happened only two days after he had enlisted.

Immediate Probe Begun

Officials at this boot camp, where only two months ago S-Sgt. Matthew McKeon was found guilty of negligence on the "death march" drowning of six recruits, immediately launched an intensive investigation of the Hamisfar affair.

Hamisfar, from his hospital bed gave this account of the incident:

"On Aug. 23 the platoon was taken by our drill instructor to the supply room to check out gear. We were issued a pack, a bucket and swab. A sergeant (the Marine Corps identified him as a corporal) picked up my pack and carried it out in the middle of a semi-circle.

"He raised it above his head and said 'Now do all of you have one of these?' I didn't know that he had my pack so I said 'No, I don't have one.'"

Asked About "Sir"

"He came up to me and said 'Don't you have sense enough to say 'sir' when you're talking to a non-commissioned officer?'"

"I said 'yes sir,' and he hit me in the ribs, just above the stomach."

Hamisfar, who at first refused to talk to a reporter but told his story at the urging of Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzberg, commanding general of this training base, said that the non-com didn't hit him as hard as he could have, but "it was a very painful blow and I still feel it when I sleep on my back."

Hamisfar's hernia was discovered the following day when the recruit received his first physical examination here. Hamisfar had not reported the incident until the bruise was discovered during his operation.

Sen. Ellender Criticizes Aid to S. Korea

TOKYO (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) described the Republic of Korea today as a "bottomless pit" for U. S. economic aid and said the program there was being run by a bunch of American "plug-heads."

The outspoken Louisianian, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, announced he would fly to Seoul today to check his present opinion that "we ought to cut off economic aid almost entirely."

Ellender, now surveying U. S. aid programs in Asia, was joined in Tokyo by Sen. Henry C. Dworshak (R-Idaho) for the final 20 days of the inspection tour. They will visit Korea, Formosa and southeast Asian nations receiving American aid.

Ellender and Dworshak flew to Seoul today. Ellender said in a plane-side interview the United States must continue military aid to Korea but must trim economic help.

"We cannot keep pouring in money," he said.

"We've got a bunch of plug-heads there (in the U. S. economic aid program)—and the same thing seems to be true in Formosa—who are trying to balance the agriculture and industry."

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Local authorities said today Mrs. Evelyn Latham, 51, wife of a wealthy investment broker, has identified one of the two women who she said kidnaped her from her son's home and left her semi-nude on a desert highway.

Mrs. Latham was found Friday in a dazed condition about 20 miles west of El Centro. She was taken to El Centro Hospital and treated for exposure to heat of more than 110 degrees during the 24 hours she spent on the desert.

The victim told police she was kidnaped Wednesday night by two women. She said they drove her into desolate desert area, stripped off her clothes and buried her under a pile of rocks before fleeing.

Shortly after Mrs. Latham was discovered by a motorist, Mrs. Beatrice Winn, 57, and Mrs. Lucille M. Whisenand, 36, were booked here on suspicion of kidnaping and attempted murder. Both of the women had told police they also had been kidnaped

Third Trip for Secretary Since Crisis Erupted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is sending Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to next week's London conference in a special effort to win support for the new Suez Canal "users association" plan.

The President hopes that by dispatching Dulles to London he can get more than just a few nations to back the idea.

So far, only the United States, Britain and France have agreed to participate in the scheme.

It is the third time Dulles has gone to London since the Suez crisis erupted.

The users plan, which originated in Washington, is for the new association to hire Suez pilots quitting the Egyptian Canal Company, place them on ships of association members and try to get Egypt to let the vessels go through the waterway.

Dulles' big hope is that a good many nations will endorse the plan. He does not want the new association to be branded immediately as a strictly big power group which is battling for colonialism.

The police captain said they had in their possession a .25 calibre automatic and some checkbook knives that they admitted were stolen from the Harrisburg business. He said he would return the items to Harrisburg.

Mrs. Latham had been baby sitting at the home of her son, Dr. Richard Latham.

Mrs. Latham told police the women threatened to kill her. She said after crawling from under the rocks she wandered for several hours in the desert before reaching a road.

Truman Still Unconvinced

Editorial — BY BRUCH BISSAT It is more than six years since Alger Hiss was convicted on perjury charges growing out of his denials that he passed State Department secrets to the Communists. Yet former President Harry Truman still insists Hiss was not a Red spy.

Mr. Truman did not resurrect this bit of history. A newsman asked him about Hiss on a TV interview. His answer to the spy question was a categorical "no."

The query was not the kind the former president would be likely to duck. But his flat "no" is an insufficient reply. It needs supporting evidence, inasmuch as it goes directly counter to the firm findings of a federal court.

Admittedly Mr. Truman is not a lawyer. Nevertheless, even a layman must grasp that you must offer something solid if you want people to believe that a court misjudged a case.

Mr. Truman's problem is to find the means to refute evidence which satisfied the federal grand jury that brought down the Hiss indictment, and enabled U. S. attorneys to convince a popular jury that the charges were true.

What was that evidence? Basically it consisted of documents in Hiss' handwriting or written on Hiss' home typewriter which set forth key details of State Department secrets. These papers were in the possession of Whittaker Chambers, confessed Communist courier.

Hiss only belatedly acknowledged knowing Chambers when the latter demonstrated conclusively that he had detailed information about the Hiss home and the Hiss way of life. Then he told congressional investigators Chambers had once rented a room at his place.

There was never any denial that Hiss wrote the handwritten notes Chambers produced in court. Hiss tried to suggest that these had not in fact been passed to Chambers but were stolen from his State Department desk. But he never showed plausibly how Chambers or another Red agent could have had access to that desk.

Even more decisive were the typewritten documents. It was not hard to prove they came from the Hiss typewriter. The government went further and showed that Mrs. Hiss did some of the typing. Her characteristic typing habits were revealed by comparison with other material she typed.

A jury might well have a nagging doubt about notes left on a State Department desk. But information deliberately typed at home by the defendant's wife could not be easily explained away. It never was.

One wonders what inquiries Mr. Truman has had under way these many years which now permit him to say flatly, in the face of this evidence, that Hiss was not a spy.

Unless he has something substantial to offer, he really ought to duck this one and keep to other topics in the fall campaigning.

Wildlife Service Claims Fish Scales Are Digestible

WASHINGTON (U) — Fish scales for dinner? Well, not tonight, but the government's fish and wildlife service is working on it.

The service said today that scales are digestible, and it has two studies under way seeking the best ways to make their high protein content available for animal food.

The fishery technological laboratory at College Park, Md., has found that dried ground pollack scales can be digested easily by rats being used for experimentation.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

JACK ANDERSON Says: Secret Diary Accuses GOP Chief of Playing Politics With Federal Contracts; Len Hall Calls Charges "Bunk"; Justice Department Sits On Diary.

WASHINGTON. — The mystery has never been cleared up of the secret diary which accuses Republican National Chairman Len Hall of demanding a political payoff from a company seeking a government contract.

The Frederick Snare Corporation came to Hall for political approval while negotiating for a $43,000,000 contract to expand the U. S.-owned nickel plant at Nio, Cuba. Hall is quoted in the diary as insisting that the company prove its Republican standing, place its insurance through a GOP firm, and donate to the 1954 election campaign.

Company executives wasted no time looking up the GOP finance chairman in New York and New Jersey. The amount contributed has been reported to Senate investigators as $20,000. One $1,500 donation has been traced from the Snare company's executive vice president, Randall Cremer, to the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, then headed by Congressman Dick Simpson (R., Pa.) who accompanied Cremer to see Hall.

The secret diary, kept by Cremer, turned up mysteriously among routine records the General Services Administration was inspecting. GSA hastily forwarded the hot document to the Justice Department, which has refused to show it to Congress or the press.

IKE INTERVENES

One reporter even appealed to President Eisenhower for information about the diary. Ike sent him to see Attorney General Brownell.

"You go and tell (Brownell) that I asked you to see him," instructed the President of the United States.

But Brownell still refused to divulge the diary's contents. His excuse: The case is under investigation. This should keep the diary under official wraps until after the election.

However, this column has access to the diary and doesn't mind unwrapping it now. The most startling entry is Cremer's account of a conversation with Hall. "If you get the contract, we will expect to get the placing of the insurance and the bonds," the diary quotes Hall as telling the Snare company representative.

"That will be no difficulty about that," Cremer quickly agrees, according to the diary.

DONATION WELCOMED

Hall was talking about the risk insurance and commercial blanket bond that would be required for the $43,000,000 project. Another document quotes the GOP chairman as suggesting, too, that a campaign contribution "would be most welcome."

Later, the diary reports that Hall was balking, because he had "received no corroboration from the finance chairman in New York and New Jersey."

Meanwhile, Cremer tried desperately to prove to Hall that the Snare company was loyally Republican. At one point, Cremer appealed for help to Harold Talbot, then secretary of the Air Force.

"Information has just reached us indicating that representations have been made to the Republican National committee to the effect that it was due to Democratic influence that the original contract was given us for the construction of the Nio plant, and later for the rehabilitation, with the obvious implication that the contract for the expansion should go to some other contractor more active in Republican circles," Cremer wrote Talbot.

"Actually it so happens that all our officers are lifelong Republicans. However, as you know, politics had no part in the selection of Frederick Snare Corporation in 1942 to handle the original contract," Cremer pleaded.

"Of course both the Nio contracts were given to us during Democratic administrations, but the question of politics was never considered. It seems strange that it should be mentioned now with our own party in control. Since you could vouch for the truth of the above, we wondered if you might perhaps care to call up Mr. Leonard Hall and set them straight on this."

HALL SAYS "BUNK" Queried about the Cremer diary, Hall told this column that the entries about him were "Just so much bunk." He acknowledged seeing Cremer but "always at his request."

A GSA spokesman suggested on the basis of "new evidence" that the diary may have been planted in an attempt to embarrass Hall. Right after the diary turned up, the spokesman said, Cremer tried to pressure GSA into granting a more favorable deal.

Once the White House learned of the diary's contents, it caused a backstage stir. Assistant President Sherman Adams was appalled. Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey remarked gloomily that Hall might have to resign if the diary ever became public.

Fred Seaton, then the President's trouble-shooter but now secretary of the interior, went into urgent huddles with White House aides, including the President's chief lobbyist, Wilton Persons, and chief lawyer, Gerald Morgan.

It was Morgan who urged the strategy that was finally adopted — namely, leaving the diary in the Justice Department's hands, thus keeping it "under investigation" until after the election.

SENATE INVESTIGATES

Negotiations for the $43,000,000 contract were narrowed down in May, 1954, to four firms—Frederick Snare, Merritt-Chapman & Scott, Raymond Concrete, and Stone & Webster. Final decision was up to then-GSA Administrator Ed Mansure.

Hall phoned Mansure repeatedly urging that the contract go to Raymond Concrete. At the first mention of Frederick Snare, Hall blew up and called it a "Democratic company."

The diary entries, telling of Cremer's conversations with Hall, are dated in June and July, 1954. Shortly thereafter, Hall withdrew his objections to Frederick Snare.

Mansure decided the contract was so big it should be divided between two contractors. Hall still insisted that Raymond Concrete should get half, but agreed the other half could go to Frederick Snare. National Lead company, which operates the Nio plant for the government, recommended Merritt-Chapman & Scott.

Mansure's final choice: Frederick Snare and Merritt-Chapman & Scott. The deal was signed in August, 1954.

Note: The Senate investigating company, sparked by its able chief counsel, Bob Kennedy, is hot on Hall's trail. This investigation should determine whether Hall has been cleverly victimized or should be fired.

30 Arrested in Narcotics Raid In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP) — One of the biggest narcotics crackdowns in recent years netted federal and local authorities 30 arrests and thousands of dollars worth of illegal narcotics in St. Louis.

Six St. Louis detectives and four federal narcotics agents made the arrests Friday climaxing three months of planning.

The agents had to knock down the doors to some of the nine homes they raided. The raids are believed to have dealt a severe blow to the narcotics traffic in the Midwest area which operates from St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago.

More arrests were expected as the authorities look for the key figures in the narcotics traffic. So far, 11 persons have been named in warrants.

Some $5,000 in contraband narcotics was confiscated in the raid, some of it from a person who is believed to have been delivering it to St. Louis contacts from Chicago. He was identified by agents as Chesterfield Brown, 31. Brown was charged with assault on a federal agent.

The raid was carried out under a new federal law providing stiff penalties, from 5 to 20 years in prison without parole, for convictions on the sale of heroin.

MILLION DOLLAR AUTO POLICY AVAILABLE

There is a venerable truism to the effect that it is always possible to learn something new. Well, it happened to me again the other day.

I was attending an educational meeting sponsored by the world's largest multiple writing insurance company. The speaker was discussing the proper amount of Bodily Injury limits for an automobile owner to carry on his car.

For many years the basic bodily injury liability limits remained at $5/10,000.00. Then during the past few years, the Illinois law has changed several times increasing these limits until now the wrongful death limit in Illinois is $25,000.00 for each person.

An unusually high percentage of automobile owners carry bodily injury limits to protect themselves for much higher amounts. For example, at the Robertson-Ghent Insurance Agency, there are many, many automobile owners who carry $100/300,000.00 limits of protection for automobile bodily injury liability. I, being closely associated with this situation, have sort of had in my mind that these $100/300,000.00 limits represented a maximum of coverage that was available to me.

You can imagine my surprise when this speaker stated that $1,000,000.00 limits were quite common. Imagine that! One Million Dollars worth of protection for what you might do with your automobile. Well, I couldn't resist the temptation, so as soon as I returned to my office, I sent in a request for a rate quotation of $1,000,000.00 limits for my own automobile. You can imagine my amazement when I learned I learned that it only cost $4.05 more a year to increase my protection to $1,000,000.00. Needless to say, I am at this moment ordering this coverage, and I heartily recommend it to all those automobile owners who desire the very best in protection.

You may be sure that if you have a Million Dollar Policy on your car and have an accident, you will have a profusion of competent attorneys stationed right by your side to give you all the legal protection possible.

Find New Clue In Death of Boys

CHICAGO (UP) — The still-unsolved murder of three Chicago boys almost one year ago was brought before the public by the disclosure of a new clue.

Patrick Deeley, chief of detectives, disclosed Friday that an examination of the bodies revealed sunflower pollen driven deep into the head of one of the slain youths, Robert Peterson, 13.

Deeley said the pollen apparently was on the murder weapon, believed by investigators to be a narrow-type hand tool used in gardening.

POINT OF NO RETURN!

More intently than ever the pilot now watches his dials, cocking a sensitive ear to the motors' rhythm. He has reached the point of no return. He dare not turn back.

Years of research by scores of scientists have perfected his plane. Hours upon hours have been spent in readying it for the journey. If something goes wrong now, the pilot will know instinctively what to do, because of his long years of training.

Like the pilot, you try to prepare for emergencies. You realize that without training beforehand, it is impossible to meet a crisis wisely and adequately.

The spiritual knowledge you'll need for these times can be found in the Church. Through its guidance you will learn to meet everyday problems with serenity, and emergencies with confidence.

Begin right now to strengthen your spiritual reserves of courage, faith, and hope. TODAY is your point of no return.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Christ Among The Churches"

Revelation 1:9-18; 3:14-22
By DR. ARCHIE E. BROWN
GOLDEN TEXT: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come into him, and will sup with him, and he with me." (Rev. 3:20).

INTRODUCTION — My phone rang, and the disturbed voice of a weeping woman replied to my "hello." She was evidently very much upset and excited, and wanted to know if I would come immediately to her home. Within less than five minutes I was being ushered into her living room. What was wrong? She had been reading from the book of Revelation and had gotten all upset and frightened.

The book of Revelation was not given by our Lord to frighten people. On the contrary, it was given to comfort Christian people in their hours of trial and suffering. The message of Revelation is the message of victory assured for every follower of Christ. No matter what life has to offer, there is a crown of victory awaiting every believer in Jesus Christ as personal Savior.

I CHRIST REVEALS HIMSELF (Rev. 1:9-11)

The word "revelation" means to reveal. That is exactly what is done in this book. Christ reveals himself to his followers through the Apostle John.

John was on the Isle of Patmos, a very small, rocky island in the Mediterranean Sea. (It was my privilege to fly over this small island just a few months ago.) He was very conscious of his Lord's presence. Presently he heard a voice behind him. It was like a trumpet.

The voice (Jesus) said: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. 'Now, Alpha, is the first letter in the Greek alphabet, and Omega is the last letter of the same. It is just like the letter A and the letter Z in our alphabet. Certainly, Jesus was in the beginning, and He shall be in the end of all things."

John was in exile on the island of Patmos. He was in dire need of consolation. It was a hard hour for him. Jesus came to not only meet his needs, but to bring comfort to his followers for all time to come.

II CHRIST'S MINISTRY (Rev. 1:17-18)

When John saw Jesus in this Patmos vision, he fell down at his feet. John had long ago accepted Christ as the Messiah and his own personal Savior.

It is interesting to study the "fear not" of Jesus in the New Testament. He is always driving fear from the hearts and lives of his people.

Here we find Jesus laying his right hand on John's head, and saying: "Fear not, I am the first and the last."

What is Jesus saying? He is the first and last in history. He controls history. He controls the world and all its events. He controls the lives of all his followers. He is Master! He is the first and last, the beginning and the end.

III CHRIST AND SALVATION (Rev. 3:14-22)

Here Jesus sends a special message to the church at Laodicea. This is the only church out of the seven to which he sends no word of commendation. To all the other six churches he sends some complimentary words, but not to Laodicea.

Laodicea was "neither hot nor cold." It was a lukewarm church. He said to Laodicea: "Because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spue thee out of my mouth."

This church was rich and thought they had need of nothing. Jesus said that in reality they were poor and naked needed the richness that only he can give.

CONCLUSION — (V. 20) We are reminded here of Holman Hunt's picture, THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD. In it he pictures Jesus standing outside a church door with a lighted lantern in one hand while knocking on the door with his other hand. When asked why he had painted no latch on the door, Hunt replied: "The latch is on the inside."

Yes, the door to every church must be unlatched from the inside before Jesus will enter. He will never force his way in. Also, the door to your heart is the same. Jesus wants into your heart and life. In fact, he stands outside (the Light of the world) knocking and waiting for you to open up and let him in. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in and sup with him, and he with me."

DEATH RIDES THE RANGE—There are 14 valuable, registered Hereford steers in the photo above, all struck dead by a single bolt of lightning. They belong to Morris Barnes, of West Mineral, Kan. They were some of many cattle killed when vicious thunderstorms swept the area around Parsons, Kan.

Soil Bank

The act which provides the basis of the Soil Bank program was enacted into law on May 28. Following its passage it was necessary to develop administrative rulings and regulations applying to the program and farmers have had little time or opportunity to acquaint themselves with its provisions. The program was put into effect so late that for practical reasons the effectiveness of the program cannot be judged intelligently this year.

The principal objective of the Soil Bank program is to reduce the production of farm commodities that are in surplus supply and to conserve soil resources. In general, the program meets the recommendations of Farm Bureau. In some instances it goes beyond Farm Bureau recommendations, and in other instances it falls short of what Farm Bureau people feel would be necessary to do the job. The most important deviations of the program from Farm Bureau recommendations are its failure to provide adequate assurance of a reduction of the surplus. It is quite apparent that if the program is to succeed, it will be necessary to balance production with the demands of a free market.

To keep producing surpluses means continued downward pressure on farm prices and income. They also mean marketing quotas and acreage allotments, heavy costs to the taxpayers and bad public relations for agriculture. We must eliminate existing surpluses and prevent the production of new ones.

Fatten Cattle on Good Pasture to Save

Farmers who fatten their cattle on good pasture during the next few months can make savings in feed up to 20 percent on corn and 30 percent on protein concentrates per 100 pounds of beef produced.

That was the statement made by a prominent midwest extension animal husbandman.

He also said pasture feeding offers the best opportunity for maximum profits on beef cattle in the period immediately ahead.

Where cattle have gained more than one and one-half pounds per day during the previous winter, he recommends feeding about four pounds of ear corn per day during the early pasture season. Then beginning about July 1, he suggests increasing the rate of grain feeding, depending on the quality of the pasture.

The Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out that high-yielding pasture stands are essential if the farmers are to produce beef profitably with a limited amount of corn and protein. This, in turn, depends on the soil's fertility level. When soils are well supplied with needed plant nutrients, legume yields are good and quality is high, the committee says.

Legumes particularly need substantial amounts of phosphate and potash to make thick, high-yielding growth. These nutrients can be supplied in the form of commercial fertilizer. Where needed, liming the soil will pay, the committee says.

Farm Workers Total 9,200,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that 9,200,000 people were at work on farms during the week ending Aug. 25—a 4 per cent decline from the same week a year ago.

The number of persons engaged in farm work was down from the 1955 level in all areas except New England and the Pacific states. Farm workers increased by 6,000 in New England and 32,000 in the Pacific area.

From Washington, the unprecedented aerial tour will cover 32 states in 16 days, with only 14 of them "working" days. Illinois to Top Production of Corn, Soybeans

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Illinois' corn and soybean crops, already reported excellent, now are expected to establish new record yields, the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said today.

If present crop estimates are borne out, Illinois will be the top producer of corn and soybeans in the nation this year.

The Sept. 1 crop estimate indicates an all-time record corn crop of 587 million bushels and an all-time high yield of 66 bushels per acre.

Outlook for the soybean crop is 128 million bushels, with a record yield of 27 bushels per acre, the service said.

The estimated 1956 corn crop exceeds the record 1948 crop by 23 million bushels. The prospective 66 bushel per acre yield is 13 bushels above average and five bushels above the record set in 1948.

The expected corn crop will put Illinois at the top of the corn producing states for the second year in a row. The estimated 587 million bushels would be about a sixth more than Iowa's expected production.

The indicated soybean crop, at 128 million bushels, is about two and a third times as large as that expected in Minnesota, this year's second largest producing state.

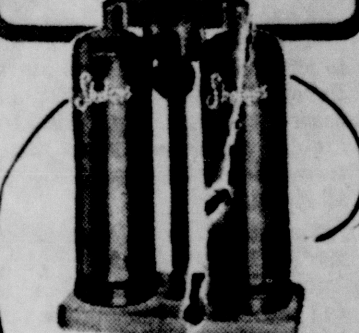

The crop service said the 1956 and sprinkle the lawn generously each day for a week if there is no rain. Sprinkling may be reduced to twice the second week. Cut the grass fairly high and leave clippings on the lawn as a mulch to protect young plants and keep up fertility during the first year.

wheat yield was 3 1-2 million bushels larger than the previous record high, and oat yields were much above average. Small grain harvest has been completed.

The hay crop, estimated at 4 1-2 million tons, is 3 per cent smaller than last year, but 7 per cent larger than average.

Feuquay Sparks Eagles To 25-12 Opening Grid Victory Against Anna

Eldorado, sparked by three touchdowns by Co-Captain Marty Feuquay, started its 1956 football season successfully, defeating a highly regarded Anna-Jonesboro team 25-12. The game was played at Anna.

Statistics show that Eldorado made 11 first downs to eight for Anna. Eldorado tried four passes, and all were incomplete. Anna went to the air 12 times, completed two, had two intercepted and eight fell incomplete. Eldorado lost 55 yards by penalties and Anna was penalized only 10 yards.

Anna scored early in the game, with Bill Lewis leading the way. On the second play of the game Lewis scooted 32 yards to the 28, then Lewis passed to Bittle to the 10 yard line and on the next play Lewis went over for the TD. The try for point failed.

Quarter Ends 6-6

Eldorado came roaring back to tie the score, the touchdown coming on a 25 yard around-end sweep by Feuquay. Eldorado's attempt for extra point was bad and the quarter ended 6-6.

The second quarter was action filled, Eldorado scoring two TDs and Anna one.

The Eagles' first touchdown drive of the second quarter started on the 35 yard line. Phelps and Feuquay alternated in carrying the ball to the 16, then Phelps cracked the line and went all the way to score. Point try failed.

Eldorado scored again later in the period on a five-yard run by Feuquay.

Anna's TD came on some fine running by Lewis. After a pass to Bittle put the ball in the 45 yard line, in two plays Lewis scored, going 15 and then 25 for the TD.

After a scoreless third quarter, Eldorado cracked through for another TD late in the final period.

The Eagles had control of the ball practically all the final frame and threatened repeatedly, but was able to score with only thirty seconds remaining to be played.

Home Game Next Friday

The Eagles got a scoring threat underway from the 31 yard line and all backfield players—Marty and Lester Feuquay, Don Gwaltney and Gary Phelps—take turns carrying to advance the ball to the seven.

Gwaltney then went over, but the play was nullified and Eldorado penalized 15 yards on a clipping call. Again the entire backfield unit alternated carrying the ball, but finally ran out of steam and lost the ball on the three.

Anna tried to pass out of danger. Two passes fell incomplete and the third attempt was intercepted by Phelps on the 14. The ball was advanced to the 1-foot line, then Marty Feuquay went over for the final TD. The PAT was scored on a pass to Justice.

Next Friday Eldorado opens its home season against McLeansboro. Eldorado's starting lineup last night had Kingery and Woods ends, McMahon and Goodley tackles, Mitchell and Mosby guards, Poole center, Justice quarterback, Gwaltney and Lester Feuquay halfbacks and Phelps fullback. Also in action were M. Feuquay, Willis, Corbin, Reasons, Overton and Koker.

The officials: Wright of Murphysboro, Englehart of Wolf Lake and Holder, Carbondale.

Braves Cling to One Game Lead After 13-1 Loss to Phils; Dodgers Beat the Cubs, 4-2

By United Press

The Milwaukee Braves clung to a one-game lead in the nerve-racking National League race today but to the Brooklyn Dodgers it's "all even again."

That's because the Dodgers again drew even with the Braves in the all-important "lost column" when they beat the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, Friday night and the Philadelphia Phillies crushed the leaders, 13-1. The Braves' one-game lead stems from the fact they've won two extra games but the Dodgers reason they still have the two extra games on their schedule to make up those wins.

Old pros PeeWee Reese and Carl Furillo struck the key blows for the Dodgers, who got a terrific battle from $80,000 bonus pitcher Moe Drabowsky. Reese opened the winning, three-run eighth-inning rally with a double after Drabowsky limited the Dodgers to three hits for seven frames and Furillo capped it with a two-run double. Furillo also scored on an error by Gene Baker.

Relief pitcher Don Bessent received credit for his fourth win although Clem Labine came out of the bullpen to retire pinch-hitter Jim King for the game's last out. It was Drabowsky's third loss against two victories.

Phils Bombard Braves

The fifth-place Phillies scored their 11th win in 21 meetings with the Braves this season with a 17-hit barrage that included a grand slam homer by Solly Hemus and a three-run round-tripper by Del Ennis. Harvey Haddix pitched six-hit ball, including a homer by Del Crandall, to win his 13th game for the Phillies. Lew Burdette was kayoed in 3 2-3 innings and suffered his 10th defeat against 18 triumphs.

Willie Mays blasted his 31st and 32nd homers to knock in all the New York Giants' runs in a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the only other National League game. Ruben Gomez pitched a five-hitter and struck out five to raise his season's record to 7-15.

In the American League, the New York Yankees reduced their pennant-winning "magic number" to three with a 5-1 win over the Detroit Tigers while the Cleveland Indians split a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox.

Lack of Blocking Hurts Locals' Running Attack; Lone Score on Pass Play

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs last night learned they must block to establish a running attack as they bowed, 21 to 7, to Murphysboro at Taylor Field before a good-sized crowd of fans.

The locals never did get their running game established. Longest runs from scrimmage, of 21 and seven yards, were made by John Zeigler and Jim Cummins, respectively, when they went back to pass and decided to carry the ball when they could find no receiver open.

However, outside of lack of blocking ability, the locals did not look too ragged for an outfit composed almost entirely of inexperienced boys.

The Bull Dog touchdown came on a long pass play in the final quarter when they were trailing, 21 to 0. With seven minutes left Zeigler made his 21-yard run to the Murphysboro 46 and after one incomplete pass he tossed to Bill Yates, end, who caught the ball around the 30 and outraced his defenders over the goal line.

Murphysboro scored once in the first, third and fourth quarters. In the first period, after half-back Mickey Turk ran 51 yards to the H-1, fullback Bob Maloney crashed over and end Bill Mohlenbrock kicked the extra point.

The second period saw no scoring and no threats.

Fumble Sets Up TD

A Harrisburg fumble helped set up the Murphysboro third quarter touchdown. The locals, on the 12, fumbled back to the one and had to punt. Murphy returning to the H-14. A five-yard penalty set the Red Devils back to the 19 and two plays put the ball on the 14. A 13-yard pass play to Mohlenbrock put the ball on the one and quarterback Ken Lavender went over on a sneak. Mohlenbrock again kicked the extra point and Coach Bob Colborn's split-T boys led 14-0.

Oliver Hooper, speedy Murphysboro back, raced 24 yards to score the final Murphy touchdown and Mohlenbrock place-kicked successfully for the third time to make the count 21-0.

It was only a couple of minutes later that Harrisburg scored on the Zeigler-to-Yates pass and Ronnie Vick, who played the entire

East St. Louis Flyers Coast By St. Louis Beaumont 20-6 for 43rd Win

By United Press

The favorites, the traditional powerhouse and the defending conference champions came through in good shape Friday night as Illinois prep football teams opened their 1956 season with more than 100 games.

The East St. Louis Flyers, owners of the longest unbeaten streak in the state, coasted by St. Louis Beaumont 20-6 for their 43rd straight game without a loss. The Flyers' record is marred only by one tie.

Pana's Panthers, who racked up nine straight opponents for the midstate conference title last season, punted Benld 26-0 to get off on the right foot this year.

In the Big 12 Conference, Champaign, tabbed an early favorite for the championship, walloped Springfield Feitschans 59-0.

Vermilion Valley's defending champion Onarga scored its first conference victory of 1956 with an easy 27-0 whitewash of Chatsworth. Murphysboro's always powerful Red Devils smashed Harrisburg 21-7.

One defending champion that didn't make the grade in its season opener was north Egypt titleholder Lawrenceville, which fell before Salem 7-6. The victory was sweet revenge for Salem, which was edged out of the crown last year and has lost to Lawrenceville by narrow margins the last four years.

Peoria Woodruff notched its 14th win in a row, slamming Quincy 34-7.

In the Big Eight Conference, Aurora West stopped De Kalb 14-13. Aurora East tied Proviso 7-7. Rockford East cuffed Beloit, Wis., 27-12 and Rockford West lost to Janesville, Wis., 19-0.

In other games involving Big 12 teams, Streator and Kankakee battled to a 13-13 tie. Peoria Central edged Rock Island 13-7. Decatur's Reds were held to a scoreless tie by Mooseheart, Pekin was upended
